

Lester Aldridge Partner joins TMA UK Board of Directors

South Coast law firm Lester Aldridge is pleased to announce that partner Rebecca Walker has been voted onto the board of directors at The Turnaround Management Association UK (TMA).

Rebecca is a Partner specialising in turnaround and restructuring. She has been involved in multiple assignments concerning distressed companies where the indebtedness has been successfully restructured to achieve a solvent outcome.

Rebecca is ranked as a Next Generation Partner in The Legal 500.

As a global non-profit organisation, TMA enables troubled businesses to find advice and broaden their knowledge through its extensive network of professionals, its education programmes and web sites. The organisation is comprised of turnaround and corporate renewal professionals with almost 10,000 members in 54 chapters.

Rebecca comments on her appointment to the board: "I have been active within the TMA for a number of years now and have seen the opportunities that it provides to its members and the businesses that require its members' services. I am delighted to have the opportunity to engage further with the TMA through my board position."